WATERLOO CUP FINISHED TODAY

Two Rounds Completed and Several Surprises Sprung
—Clyde Is Favorite.

With the first two rounds in the Waterloo cup run off, there are ten dogs left to fight in this historic cup this afternoon. The racing yesterday was as good as any seen since the coursing meet started, and several surprises were handed the public. Among the most notable was the downfall of Walla Walla, Rocked Asleep and The Wolf in the second round. All are strong dogs and sold big favorites in the pools.

Oquirrh's Colonel, the speedy Salt Lake dog which was runner-up in the Mississippi Futurity, went down in the first round. This dog was favorite with the Salt Laker, who looked for him to make a great showing after his hard race of last week.

Clyde, the fast Colma dog, stands out as a strong favorite to win the race, and at the close of the second round stood as an even chance on the betting boards. Mr. Blue, the winner of the cup last year, went out in the first round yesterday, being beaten by Oquirrh. On Daggo of Colma, was a short course and the rabbit favored on On Daggo from the start, the kill coming before Mr. Blue had a chance to show any grueling work. The results:

COLORED PORTER IN TOILS.
Blackman Accused of Stealing Fred Kuster's Cigars.

At Blackman, a colored porter employed at the Fleur de Lis saloon was arrested last night, on complaint of Fred Kuster, the proprietor, who accuses him of stealing five boxes of cigars, valued at $90.

The five boxes of cigars which Blackman is supposed to have stolen were missed on Monday evening after he had gotten through sweeping up and carrying the empty boxes out to the cellar. Being accused of the theft, Blackman, it is said, offered to produce the cigars to escape prosecution.

Shortly after his arrest Blackman was asked to show the police where the cigars were. He failed to do so, and he is now in the city jail on a charge of petty larceny.

John Nelson is working like a beaver to get his wind, being in good shape after a long layoff.

Candidates for senator or assemblymen in filing their acceptance of nominations may then sign one of two statements, the first pledging them to vote for the candidates for United States senator receiving the highest number of votes in their county at the primary elections, and the second pledging him to vote for the candidate receiving the highest number of votes in the state at the party primaries.

The governor also signed the direct primary bill, which provides for the nomination of all candidates for office except governor, congressmen and presidential electors by direct or primary vote instead of through delegates.

SPORTS IN P AND COLORADO

Is It Not About Time Utah
Should Be Given Credit for Athletic Victories?

BY WILLIAM D. RISHEL.
Isn't it about time for the press of Colorado and coaches of the various schools in that state to give Utah credit for its athletic victories? This state has walloped some of the best teams they have in Colorado on the gridiron and on the track, but in accounts published of the games and comments by the coaches and sporting writers in general Utah has never yet been given credit for her work. Colorado has in turn walloped Utah on several occasions in Salt Lake and in Colorado, but the teams from the Centennial state have always been given full praise for their victories.

The most recent attacks on this state have been the remarks of the coaches and the sporting editors of the Colorado School of Mines, which claim it was robbery pure and simple to give credit to the school from the Centennial state for the Colorado teams. Is there anything in the general make-up of the men from Colorado that gives them a license to beat Utah men in athletics? Why should the Colorado coaches be any better in their business than the men are in this regard? Why should the Colorado football officials be more honest than those who are in Utah? Let us hear from Coach Mackdock of the U. of U. and Coach Teetzel of the B. Y. U. Both of these men are mentioned in the sports column of this morning's paper as being as strong as any football organization that has ever been in the state.

Coach Walker of the U. of U. has been mentioned in the sports column of the B. Y. C. and Coach Tobin of All Hallows. This trio learned the game under Stage and each were, through right, the big C of Chicago.

Yet, with all this talent, to say nothing of the other good men teaching athletics in this state, who probably have not such records as the above mentioned, but who know their business, Colorado insists Utah victories are robberies and the officials are dishonest. This is a robbery, and Colorado should be too big to permit of such things.

SPONGE THROWN UP BY SECONDS

Freddie Weeks Saved From Being Pounded Into Pulp by Champion Abe Attell.

Los Angeles, Oct. 29.—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, added another victory tonight when he knocked out Freddie Weeks of Cripple Creek in the fourth round of what was to have been a twenty-round bout.

Weeks was no match whatever for Attell and the champion had him at his mercy all the way through.

In the first round, before the fight had progressed as much as a minute, Attell sent a swift right cross to Weeks' jaw, and the Cripple Creek boy staggered back and tottering. It was evident to every spectator that Attell could have knocked him out then without effort, but he refrained from doing so. He punched his staggering opponent with light jabs until he was on his feet again.

The referee separated them several times, Weeks clinging to Attell closely. When the round ended the Cripple Creek boy was weak and groggy.

The succeeding two rounds were tame and uninteresting.

In the fourth round Attell suddenly walked in and sent a stiff right punch straight from the shoulder to the point of the jaw. Weeks staggered and fell to the mat.

He rose to his feet slowly as the referee counted, but he was unable to get on his feet again with another vicious rap. Weeks rose slowly and Attell knocked him down twice more. As Weeks lay on the mat vainly endeavoring to rise again his seconds threw the sponge into the ring.

THE ETIQUETTE OF LARGESSE
Rules of Tipping to Suit All Purses and All Conditions.

(New York Sun.)

While proceeding to your seat at the lowest priced article on the menu—usually an entrée for thirty-four cents—surely have enough remaining cash to reward the German baron, French count or Russian archduke who designs to decant the fluid. The most tactful person should choose the offering in decent silken covers and how in courtly fashion when making it.

Do not, however, use the word "sire" in addressing the dignitary in question. Sire is for kings only. Say your grace, or mein herr baron, or M'sieu le comte, according to circumstances. Bear in mind that truly excellent personages are great democrats at heart, thus preferring these simple forms.

The Called Off, the Master, and similar Vere de Vere hostilities—Before proceeding to luncheon, to dine or when not converted into cash or negotiable securities any and all properties and valuables of which you may be possessed. Cause your valet, private secretary or some trusted friend to accompany you for the purpose of conveying the treasure.

At the front entrance you will find gloriously golden lackeys to carry it to the head waiter. This accomplished, retire as gracefully and as speedily as may be to your home. The knowledge that you have raised all or even part of the mortgage from the head waiter's fifth avenue mansion will be so sweet to you that you will feel that you have just finished dessert, therefore must have had dinner—ergo are no longer in need of food.

NEW NOT PLEDGED.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Harry S. New, acting chairman of the Republican national committee, arrived in Chicago tonight to look over the plans which Chicago is making in an effort to secure the next national convention of the Republican party. Mr. New will confer tomorrow with Thomas D. Knight, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. "I am not pledged to any city," said Mr. New, "and do not intend to pledge myself. I merely wish to acquaint myself with the situation and to know what the city has to offer when the committee meets Dec. 6 to select the convention place."

INDICTMENTS STAND.
New York, Oct. 29.—Justice Dowling in the criminal branch of the supreme court today denied motions to dismiss two indictments for false report and forgery against Robert A. Grannis, formerly vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance company. Motion to dismiss for other grounds were immediately made, but no decision was rendered.

ANOTHER FAVORITE SON.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—A committee was organized here today to promote the candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette for the Republican nomination for president.

The conference at which the committee was appointed was attended by thirty Republican leaders of the state. An executive committee was chosen to direct the work also.
